KJF 2010

Location

Kitakyushu is an "International Technology City" blessed with the sea and greenery that grew up at the contact point of Kyushu Island, the southern end of the Japanese archipelago, and Honshu Island. It, in addition to being an important relay point for the trade of the two islands from ancient times, was also an important place that commands an important international strait (Kanmon Strait) through which sea routes from the continent of China and the Korean peninsula pass. After entering the twentieth century it developed as an important industrial region in Japan and came to embrace more than one million people.

Meeting Venue / Accommodation

KJF 2010 will be held at Kitakyushu International Conference Center, Kitakyushu, Japan. Rihga Royal Hotel Kokura offers the best room rate for the KJF 2010 participants. You may also reserve other hotels in Kitakyushu. Please visit KJF 2010 web site and find more information.

Invitation

KJF International Conference 2010 on Organic Materials for Electronics and Photonics (KJF 2010) will be held on August 22 to 25, 2010 in Kitakyushu, Japan. KJF started with members of 30 in 1989. Now this forum is surprisingly expanded as the international conference for the exchange of information about recent advances in organic materials for electronics and photonics. Lectures and posters will provide a motivation for deep discussion about the topics of the conference. We are fully confident that all participants will benefit a great deal from this opportunity of scientific exchange provided by KJF 2010.

Conference Scope

- Organic Transistors, Memories and Photovoltaics
- Molecular Photonics
- Organic EL Materials and Devices
- Nonlinear Optical Materials and Devices
- Electrochromic Materials and Devices
